

Study at the University of Hradec Králové!

Meet the dynamic and youthful environment of the University of Hradec Králové which was founded in 1959. More than 9,000 students of the university can choose from dozens of study programmes consisting of almost one hundred study disciplines.

The University of Hradec Králové is comprised of five units: Faculty of Education, Faculty of Informatics and Management, Philosophical Faculty, Faculty of Science and Institute of Social Work. Each year more than one hundred international students become a part of an inspiring multicultural environment.

The University of Hradec Králové is located in a lively student city with beautiful architecture, two rivers, many parks and perfect conditions for cycling and swimming. Many theatre and music festivals are held here throughout the whole year. It is situated in the middle of Europe - only 100 kilometers east of Prague and one-hour drive from the mountains.

Enjoy the Czech Republic!

The Czech Republic is favorably situated in the heart of Europe, so it is very easy to get here from anywhere. No matter what kind of transport you choose, you will probably arrive in Prague first. Hradec Králové lies only about 100 kilometers eastwards, so getting to this city from the capital (airport, train or bus stations) never takes longer than one and half hour.

What are African Studies about?

The PhD study of the field Africa Studies aims at the preparation of qualified specialists in area studies with primary focus on Africa. The PhD study is designed especially for students with a Master's Degree in Political Science or related disciplines. The study concentrates primarily on comparative research of Africa with the objective to apply theoretical and methodological knowledge to social, political and economic problems of the Africa region.

Experience studying in Africa

The objective of the African Studies programme is the education and preparation of scholars interested in research and teaching with a focus on Africa. The study is aimed at the preparation of graduates who will acquire theoretical and methodological knowledge as well as practical skills acquired at one go the many partner universities and research institutions in African countries. Students are supposed to carry out an extensive field research in Africa related to the topic of their doctoral dissertation. The immediate experience of the study and research abroad will enable the graduates of the PhD programme to take up research projects and to absorb the knowledge better and maximize its practical usage.

Graduates

The graduates will be professionally and also linguistically fully prepared for independent scientific research and teaching, for work in public institutions, such as ministries with agendas focused on Africa, in media, non-governmental organizations, diplomacy as well as other foreign or home institutions searching for experts in area studies.
